What makes me click on a link is when I know the person who has written an article or is giving the information, or when the first line sparks my interest. What compels me to choose a story to read is first the cover, and then the blurb. The cover has to be something that makes me want to read the scene which is depicted.

Cracking joints is manipulating one's joints to produce a distinct cracking or popping sound. It is sometimes performed by physical therapists, chiropractors, osteopaths, and masseurs in Turkish baths. The cracking of joints, especially knuckles, was long believed to lead to arthritis and other joint problems. However, this is not supported by medical research. The cracking mechanism and the resulting sound is caused by carbon dioxide cavitation bubbles suddenly partially collapsing inside the j
